Sauvignon Blanc

The History

The 2020 vintage is characterised by its very early harvest and its multiple climatic hazards. The mild, dry winter favoured a very early budburst of the vines, but increased sensitivity to frost at the end of March. The hot, dry summer accentuated this precociousness and caused scalding in certain areas. In mid-August, hailstorms hit part of Gascony, but brought very welcome rainfall to other areas. The Sauvignon Blanc harvest began on August 24th under a clear sky, the earliest it ever happen, and thus produced a magnificent vintage.
